

On September 24-28, 2018 scientists from the Pushkin State Museum of Fine Arts arrived in Yerevan at the invitation of the “Erebuni” Museum Directorate. After getting acquainted with the ancient settlements of “Erebuni”, “Karmir blur” and “Shengavit”, they studied the archaeological items kept in the fund of the “Erebuni” museum, in particular the frescoes, some of which now are in the Pushkin State Museum of Fine Arts.

During the consultation with the director of the museum-reserve G.Gyurjyan, they discussed a series of programs on the restoration of frescoes, exchange of specialists, as well as the organization of joint exhibitions in both in Yerevan and in Moscow.
